The Christmas Tree.

After the program, the students marched in a body to the Gymnasium, where the Christmas presents were distributed.

In the center of the large hall of the Gymnasium was an immense Christmas tree beautifully decorated with tinsel and electric lights of various colors. The big room was further decorated with red and green, dotted here and there with colored electric lights. The students were arranged in companies facing the tree, when Santa Claus appeared on the scene and distributed the gifts which were neatly wrapped in white paper, tied with pretty ribbon and labeled with Christmas cards.

The presents for the girls consisted of writing paper, books, dishes, framed pictures, lace collars, games, etc., while those for the boys were neckties, handkerchiefs, gloves, scarf pins, sleeve links, hose, skates, shaving outfits, toys, etc. Not a boy or girl in the school was forgotten. After the presents were distributed, which included bags filled with nuts and candies, each company marched to the gallery, from which they could look down on the scene below, eat their candy, and chat with their friends.

The Christmas Dinner.

The Christmas dinner was voted a success by all those who partook of the many good things provided. After singing grace, the students entered heartily into the business at hand. The members of the faculty waited on the tables, which were already well stocked, and saw to it that the chicken was carved and served and the students' wants attended to. The following constituted the menu:

|----------------------------------|------------------------|
| Roast Chicken with Sage Dressing | |
| Cranberry Sauce | Giblet Gravy |
| Mashed Potatoes | Browned Sweet Potatoes |
| Escalloped Tomatoes | |
| Chopped Pickles | Celery |
| Fruit Cake | Apples |
| Coffee with Cream | White Cake |
| Milk | |

Saturday Evening Social.

The school social, which is always a big affair and looked forward to with interest by the students, more so at this time of the year when everyone is imbued with the Christmas spirit, was held last Saturday evening and was a decided success. The decorations, consisting of evergreens and flags, added to the beauty of the big hall. Dancing was the feature of the evening.

Excellent Christmas Skating.

Skating on the school pond was one of the main enjoyments of the week. The school was let out half hour earlier than usual to allow the students more time for recreation on the ice and in the gymnasium.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

On account of the girls literary societies having issued so many invitations to attend their special program last Friday evening, hardly any of the Invincibles or Standards were at their own meeting.

Father Welch, who has been very ill, is reported to be on the road to recovery but is still unable to be about. His kindly face is missed very much and we hope he will soon be able to be with us again.

Last Sunday afternoon Joseph Helmes gave a party in his room at which the following guests were present: Norman Thompson, Thomas Miles, James Crane, Howard Foreman, and Alexander Washington.

Mr. Lipps on his trip South stopped a couple of days in Tennessee. While there he said he met some of his old school chums whom he had not seen for fifteen years. He also visited the school which he attended when he was a boy.

At a meeting of the C men of the football squad in the Athletic Quarters Peter Calac was unanimously re-elected captain of the 1915 football team. It was also agreed that Peter was one of the best fullbacks in the game last season.

The "Little Bonsers" as they are popularly known at Quarters, were delighted to see their sister Pearl. To prove that joys never comes singly they received a check from home sufficiently large to enable them to celebrate Christmas in a sumptuous manner.

"Study the lessons that you have at present, and study hard. If you intend to go on further with your education you will regret neglecting them when you had the time and opportunity for them," said John Gibson in his speech to the Juniors while on a visit to the school rooms last Monday.

THE CATHOLIC MEETING.

By Anna La Fernier.

The meeting of Sunday, December 20th, opened with the singing of a Christmas hymn.

Father Behr, who is still substituting for Father Stock, gave splendid advice. Those who heard him were undoubtedly inspired to lead better lives. Among other things which he said was that "religion is the staff and protection in this life; it is also the way to our eternal home." He compared our souls to lamps which need constant refilling in order to keep the flame burning.

After singing another hymn the benediction service followed. The meeting closed with a hymn.

At the meeting on Sunday evening, December 27th, after a prayer and a hymn, the second chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke was read by Father Stock. The birth and life of Christ was related by Father Stock. The lesson is that Christ is God and yet when on earth he was most obedient to those who had authority over him.

After the singing of another hymn, the benediction followed. Two Christmas carols were sung. The meeting closed with a prayer.

THE SUNDAY EVENING PROTESTANT SERVICE.

By Sarah Monteith.

After several hymns, Mary Welch, who conducted the meeting of Sunday, December 20th, read from Isaiah 9: 2-8 verses, and a prayer was offered by Mary Kewaygesheik.

The program was as follows: Christmas scripture lesson, Eleanor Houk; Christmas customs, Rose Snow. Some of the Dickinson Y. W. C. A. girls from town sang a quartet. Christmas verses were recited by Mayme Mt. Pleasant, Lucy West, Theresa Lay, Agnes Owl, Florence Edwards, Lizzie Allen, and Nettie Standingbear; vocal solo, Alta Printup; recitation, Effie Coolidge; selection, Y. W. C. A. quartet; recitation, "Christmas Story," Elsie Kohpay; selection, choir; Christmas Story, "Why the Chimes Rang," Cora Battice; selection, choir.

After an interesting talk by Mr. Lipps, the meeting closed with the "Mizpah."

The leader for Sunday evening, December 27th, was Mr. John Gibson, Carlisle '14, and now a student of Mercersburg Academy.

The service was opened by a song, after which the leader read from St. John, seventeenth chapter.

Mr. Paul Baldeagle, a student in the Lancaster High School, who is spending his Christmas vacation at the school, led in prayer.

Verses from the Bible were given by David Bird, Charles Walker, Thomas Starr, and Edmund Wheelock.

Mr. Isaac Greyearth, a student at Mt. Herman, Mass., gave an interesting talk on his own experiences.

After a few remarks from the leader, the meeting closed with the "Misphah."

THE Y. W. C. A.

By Florence M. Edwards.

Marie Mason, the leader, opened the meeting of Sunday, December 20th, by reading the Scripture lesson, after which Thamar De Puis offered a prayer.

A company of Dickinson girls were with us, and they gave a very pleasing selection of Christmas hymns.

Miss Wagg told the Christmas story.

After the service the girls held a business meeting, the object of which was to elect a chairman for the membership committee.

CHANGES IN THE STUDENT BODY.

Admitted: Hobart Jamison, Seneca, Tunesassa, N. Y.; Clarence Watt, Seneca, Irving, N. Y.

Dropped: George Allen, Eustace Edwards, Luther Jacobs, Aaron Poody, George Roberts, David Steele, Charles Wilson, Frank Young Eagle.

On leave: Albert Lee.

Returned from outing: David Bird.

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

Guy Burns has reentered the Junior Class.

Mrs. Ewing has gone away on a little vacation.

Mr. Dickey, our outing agent, was here during the week.

Miss Donaldson went to her home in Ohio to spend Christmas.

The farmers of the first and second farms have changed places for the winter.

Mr. Lipps, while at Chilocco, had the pleasure of addressing the student body.

The boys in Athletic Quarters are looking forward to a strong basketball team this season.

The students were very glad to have Mr. Lipps back, as he had been away for a long time.

The skating pond has been flooded and the prospects for a good skating season are encouraging.

Captain Peter Calac selected a beautiful little fir tree for the No. 11 Christmas entertainment.

A number of boys went to the mountains for Christmas trees on Tuesday before Christmas.

The basketball game between the Seniors and the Juniors was won by the latter. The score was 27 to 25.

The Westerners held a meeting at which Peter Calac was elected captain of their basket ball team.

A very interesting Christmas program in honor of Santa Claus was rendered in the Primary Department last Wednesday.

Louise Thomas, an ex-student who is living in Glenside, Pa., came to visit her sister Minnie during the Christmas holidays.

Santa Claus must have had a heavy load this year than usual as so many of the boys received skates for Christmas presents.

Mr. Lipps complimented the Susans on their fine debaters. Mrs. Lipps also said a few words in which she expressed her pleasure in the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sanooke were visitors over Saturday and Sunday. They left Sunday afternoon enroute for North Carolina where they will make their future home.

TELLS OF HIS VISIT AT WESTERN SCHOOLS.

Saturday evening, December 19th, Mr. Lipps gave the students an account of his trips to the South and West, and of the schools which he visited.

NOTES FROM MR. LIPPS'S TALK.

We have the reputation of standing for high ideals.

It is more difficult to hold a reputation than to achieve one.

Mr. Lipps said in his talk that Chilocco has one of the best auditoriums in the Indian Service.

In the Y. M. C. A. room at Chilocco there are 150 seats and at the weekly meetings every seat is occupied.

Mr. Lipps spoke very highly of the work that is being done in the Commercial Department at Haskell.

We must strive to keep up our reputation for a high standard; and to hold to it takes determination.

There is one thing that I want the girls here to copy from the Chilocco girls, and that is their nicely oiled floors.

The Chilocco girls do not have anything on the Carlisle girls in the manner in which they keep their rooms.

Mr. Lipps told about the compliments which he heard all along the way on the gentlemanly conduct of the football boys.

It takes time to get an education, but if you take hold of the opportunity, and day by day strive to achieve high ideals, you will make good.

The students of Chilocco are interested in their Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. work. They have done good work among their own people after leaving the school.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES.

(Reports of Meetings of December 18th.)

The question: Resolved, "That woman suffrage should be granted throughout the United States." Affirmatives, Tamar Dupuis and Mary Lonechief; negatives, Bessie Gilland and Marie Belbeck. The negative side won.

The official visitors were Mrs. Wylde, Miss Beach and Miss Donaldson; other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Lipps, Mr. and Mrs. De Huff, Mrs. Robitaille, and several young men from the boys' societies.

NOTES ABOUT EX-STUDENTS.

Corinne Starr is at her home in Lac-du Flambeau, Wisconsin.

The pleasant news comes to us that Jefferson B. Smith, prophet and seer and much beloved member of class '11, has recently joined the benedict class. The bride, nee Miss Ruth Packinau, and one of our former students, is well and favorably known at Carlisle. The ceremony took place on the 6th instant, at Elbowoods, N. Dak., where the young people are now living.

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

A Happy New Year to all.

Many of the girls received small dolls.

Joseph Javine was presented with a violin.

Every one enjoyed the Christmas entertainment.

George Francis spent his Christmas holiday in Philadelphia.

Skating on the school pond is fine, and "everybody's doing it."

The Catholic students went to church in town on Christmas day.

Anna LaFerrier received a pair of ice-skates from her friend Santa Claus.

The old Gym was neatly decorated and the Christmas tree looked gorgeous.

Every one enjoyed the talk given by Mr. Lipps in the auditorium last Saturday evening.

The candy on Christmas eve was fine, but the chicken for Christmas dinner was better.

Santa Claus was indeed kind to the students of Carlisle, giving them many beautiful presents.

Mr. Mann got a very nice pair of cuff buttons as a Christmas present from his class, the Sophomores.

Kenneth King, James Garvie, Leon Boutwell, and William Winnishik spent Christmas at Lebanon, Pa.

The Christmas program in the auditorium on Christmas eve was excellent, but the music was the best of all.

The Sophomore Class took up a collection and bought a Christmas basket containing many good things to eat for a poor family in town.

Ovilla Azure conducted the program for the Catholics at their annual Christmas tree, which was held in the Gymnasium Friday evening.

Last Tuesday evening, after quiet hour, the Juniors and the Freshmen played a basketball game in which the former won by the score of 20 to 11.

The Reverend Father Welch, on account of illness, was not able to be present at the Christmas program which was given by the Catholic students.

WORK OF THE LIQUOR SUPPRESSION SERVICE.

How the Indians Were Protected During the Past Year From the Liquor Wholesalers, Retailers and Bootleggers.

For the year ending June 30, 1914, seventeen hundred cases were instituted by the Service for the Suppression of the Liquor Traffic Among the Indians, headed by Chief Special Officer H. A. Larson. Jail penalties aggregating 124 years were imposed upon 590 persons, besides fines of $62,000. Seventy-seven persons were sent to the penitentiaries under sentences aggregating 118 years, and fines of $19,000.

In recent months the service has had one man shot and several deputy marshalls killed, while a number of bootleggers are peddling liquor in the Great Beyond. A feature of the year was the disposition of the United States Supreme Court to uphold the old Indian treaties which provide for the exclusion of liquor from the Indian country.

Nearly 200 deputies were employed. Sixty persons were fined, without jail sentences, a total of over $15,000. Ninety-one were jailed, without fines, a total of 19 years. Twenty-one were penned, without fines, a total of 26 years.

Indian Commissioner Cato Sells has stood by the Special Service in the most loyal way.

By Student Reporters.

Miss Roberts spent the week end with relatives in Slatington, Pa.

Mr. Lipps went to Manhattan Agricultural College in Kansas to see if he could find a teacher for our Agricultural Department.

Sadie Ingalls, Carlisle '12, who is attending Bank's Business College in Philadelphia, was the guest of Blanche Jollie during the Christmas vacation.

There was a Y. M. C. A. meeting held Sunday afternoon in Y. M. C. A. hall. Isaac Grayearth gave a talk on Y. M. C. A. work among the Indians on different reservations.

Through an inadvertence THE ARROW for December 18 failed to mention the talk given by Dr. Rendtorff at the auditorium on the subject of "Tuberculosis." The talk was illustrated by about a hundred lantern slides and was replete with good advice concerning the prevention and treatment of the disease.

Two of our Freshman boys, Peter Calac and Joe Gilman, are leaving soon after New Year's. They are going to work for the Ford Automobile Company in Detroit, Michigan.

Friday evening the Catholics met in Y. M. C. A. hall where they had a short program and music by the band. All received oranges and candy, and a number received small presents.

Among the visitors during Christmas week were Joe Bergie, John Allen, John Chaves, Noah Henry, Robert Thompson, Isaac Grayearth, John Gibson, Luther Jacobs and Paul Baldeagle.

Mr. Lipps speaks highly of the work that is being accomplished by the Y. M. C. A. of Chilocco. He also mentioned the changes and improvements that have been made since he was there in charge.

The Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen celebrated by each class having a tree and giving a program in their respective classrooms last Wednesday evening. There was a tasty gift for every one, including the teachers.

Misses Snoddy, Wilson, Hagen, and Case and their pupils had their school rooms beautifully decorated for Christmas week. They celebrated Wednesday evening with appropriate exercises. Each room had a "tree" upon which were presents for all, including "teacher."

NOTES ABOUT EX-STUDENTS.

Harold and Mary G. Gilbert are at their homes in Winnebago, Neb.

From Tulalip, Wash., Myrtle Thomas sends New Years greetings to all.

Francis Pambrum, one of our former students, is now taking the commercial course at Haskell.

Mrs. Jefferson B. Smith, formerly Ruth Packineau, sends Christmas greetings to Carlisle friends.

In a letter from Peter Jordan we learn that he will attend school in St. Agustine, Fla., during the winter.

THE BAND.

By Leon Boutwell.

Mr. Tyrrell took the second band to the cage last Saturday where he had them practice playing while on the march.

John Gibson, a former member of the band, is here visiting during the holidays. We are glad to have John with us as we band boys never have an occasion to wear a long face while he is around.

At the next band concert which will be given January 16, the newly organized orchestra, composed of thirty-five pieces, will play the first half of the program and the band the last half.

THE LAUNDRY

By Lena Parker.

The lessons this week were on the use of laundry utensils.

Miss Albert took Tuesday afternoon off in order to pay a visit to Santa Claus in his own work shop.

Julia Frechette, senior, has been changed from the laundry to the Normal Department, where she is now a pupil teacher.

BAKER SHOP.

By Chauncey White.

The wash stand was finished last week. A couple of windows were repaired.

John Meoughee, who was lately detailed to the shop, is now having his Christmas vacation.

THE SHOE SHOP.

By George Pike.

We are doing some harness work and repairing heavy shoes for the Outing boys.

We have been very busy repairing the students shoes ever since the snow began to fall.

THE CARPENTER SHOP.

By David Perry.

Most of the week was spent in making tables and picture frames.

Last week Mr. Herr gave instruction on the square and the machines.
