A most picturesque program was that witnessed by many hundreds of people last Saturday evening when the installation of the Indian Boy Scouts of America, the first of its kind in the United States, and in the world, took place.

In the afternoon the boys were met by the outside Scouts on the campus ground. The Pathe Weekly moving-picture men were here to take pictures of the parade and stunts.

The stage at the Auditorium was beautifully arranged with palms, flowers, and flags, and in the center of the stage a camp fire was arranged.

The evening program was begun with the assembly call, given three times and responded to, to remind the public of the Scout and his oath, and the orchestra, among the number of their splended selections, played the grand march. The Boy Scouts marched in, preceded by the Camp Fire girls from the Indian School, Carlisle, and Shippensburg. This event will go down in the history of the school with all due honor given to Red Fox James, of Montana, the organizer. The Scouts, in all 200, sat in half-moon shape back of the Camp Fire girls. Visiting Scouts were from Harrisburg, Shippensburg, Gettysburg, and Fredrick, Md. The committee of the Indian Scouts, Mr. O. H. Lipps, Mr. Griffiths, and Mr. Clevett, were on the stage. Others that took part in the installation were Rev. Springer; R. S. Bryson, Scout commissioner of Carlisle; H. Clark, Scout commissioner, Fredrick, Md.; and Red Fox James.

VISITING CAMP FIRE GIRLS ENTERTAINED.

By Mary Welch.

Last Saturday evening Mrs. Ewing, assisted by Misses Knight, Carter, Roberts, Coolidge, and Welch, served an excellent dinner in the little dining room in the Girls' Quarters in honor of eleven visiting Camp Fire girls from Shippensburg. The menu consisted of pork chops, Missouri gravy, mashed potatoes, hot biscuits, butter, creamed rice, celery, pickles, blackberry jelly, gooseberry jelly, spiced peaches, drop cakes, and coffee.

After the meal the guests repaired to Mrs. Ewing's room, where they were further entertained by the gracious hostesses, Blanche Jollie and Lucy West.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

Scouting is a means of character building by bringing boys closer to nature.

Norman Thompson sends greetings to the Freshman Class. He likes Detroit, despite the cold climate.

Mr. Meyer is making arrangements for a couple of games for the girl's basketball team, which has recently been organized.

Peter Calac and Gus Looksaround write to their friends from Detroit, Mich., that they are getting along very well with their work.

We are glad to have with us one of Carlisle's successful alumni, Mr. Dennison Wheelock, of West Depere, Wis., who was graduated in 1891.

The students who had the pleasure of hearing Father Gordon speak last Sunday evening have reason to be proud of the race to which they belong.

At the chapel exercises the Freshman Class was represented by Francis Kettle, who spoke on "Civic Duties," and Lyman Madison, who gave an essay on "Responsibilities of Young Men."

Mr. Lipps advised the girls not to stop school at an early age, but to keep on and get a good education and try to become spiritually strong before they attempt to make their own living.

At the piano recital given at Mentzer Hall last Tuesday evening, Miss Catharine Weber gave much pleasure to the audience by the very pleasing manner in which she played one of Chaminade's compositions.

Character building is like gold mining, from hard labor very little gold is obtained but its value is highly estimated. This is the case in character building; the work is slow but by and by the sum total makes for true worth.

About ten months in the year.

Twenty-Five Cents Dearly

Second-class matter—so entered at the Post-office at Carlisle, September 2, 1904.

Address all communications to the paper and they will receive prompt attention.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Y. M. C. A. membership campaign is now on and new members are rolling in. Henry Sutton reports that several fellows are working for the trip to Philadelphia, which will be given the fellow who gets the most members between now and Friday evening, February 5th. Mr. Clevett thinks we should have 150 members in a month. Let's do it!

Mr. Moran, of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., gave the boys a fine talk on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Brown, of the print shop, will speak next Sunday.

We are all glad that the painter is busy getting the walls in the Y. M. C. A. Hall decorated. Mr. Lipps has promised us new seats, so before long the old hall will be quite a cheerful place.

The Y. M. C. A. social committee, consisting of Boyd Crowe, Chauncy White, and Fred Skenandore, will serve ice cream and home-made cake during the dance Saturday night in the "Y" Hall.

THE highest point of achievement of yesterday is the starting point of to-day.—Motto of Paulist Fathers.

BIG VAUDEVILLE.

Mr. Clevett is engineering a vaudeville show which will be given in the Auditorium Friday night, February 5th. The show will be "classy" from first to last, there being six big acts.

The performance will last about two hours and will be featured by Y. M. C. A. minstrels, Indian war dance and pow-wow, acrobatics, girls' double quartette and musical features, coon dialogue, Mahogany Orchestra (a side splitter), and Prof. Zobo's high dive. The price of admission will be fifteen cents, or twenty-five cents a couple. Refreshments will be sold in the audience, as in "any well-conducted vaudeville show." A big crowd of town people are expected out for this affair.

THE Y. W. C. A.

By Florence M. Edwards.

The leader for the afternoon was Rose Snow. After the opening exercises, which consisted of Scripture reading, prayer, and singing participated in by Effie Coolidge, Cora Battice, Matilda Chew, and Amy Smith, the leader discussed the question of the "Indian Girl's Future."

In Mr. Lipp's talk he dwelt on the necessity of preparation for our life's work and the absolute need of strong character to withstand temptations and attain to the best. The close attention given to him made it clear that each girl felt his message to be a personal one.

Notes from Mr. Lipps' Talk.

By Student Reporters.

No one can plan your future for you. Your future depends on what you make it.

All the government schools can be of little value to the Indian race unless while there the girls develop strong character to do the right thing when they return to their people.

It is often noticed that Indian men are more advanced than Indian women. The reason is that instead of dressing like civilized people the young girls who have been away to school and received an education are often persuaded to go back to wearing shawls, and often-times the entire Indian costume, instead of holding to the ideals they were taught at school, and thereby set an example for those who have remained on the reservations.

THE CATHOLIC MEETING.

By Jane Gayton.

The Catholics were honored in having with them last Sunday, the Reverend Father Gordon, a Chippewa Indian priest from Odanah, Wis.

In his talk to the boys and girls the thought that Father Gordon wished to impress upon them was that of "faith." He also gave a sketch of his life which was, briefly, that at the age of fourteen he thought of becoming a priest. With that ambition in view he studied and worked hard for twelve years to the end that he is now what he longed to be.

Benediction service followed.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

John Sampson has gone away on leave of absence.

Tin ceilings are being put up in the Small Boys' Quarters.

During the week the track men were out training every evening.

We can generally find some gold in everyone when we reach bedrock.

You ought to be proud that you gave the scout idea to the white people.

Ira Cloud has returned and resumed his studies, after having been away since last June.

The pledge of the Boy Scouts is a good one for all boys to live up to, even if they are not Scouts.

Mr. Red Fox James, as founder of the Indian Boy Scouts of America, should be duly honored by us.

Last Monday the Seniors elected Edward Morrin president of the class to succeed Kenneth King, resigned.

The Reverend William Coblentz said: "We must be in touch with nature before we can be in touch with God."

Our Varsity basketball team defeated the Bedford Shoe Factory team last Saturday afternoon by the score of 78 to 25.

The Standards were interested in the story of "Hamlet," which was told to them last Friday evening by Mr. Griffiths.

The Sophomores are glad to have with them, Lawrence Silverheels, who has recently been transferred from Room 10.

The Scouts who were sworn in Saturday evening can be proud to say, "I am a member of the first patrol of Boy Scouts composed entirely of Indians."

Because of the slush and mud, Saturday was not a very good day for the Boy Scouts to parade, but with the usual pluck of Scouts, they pulled through all right.

Mr. Hugh Moran, one of the international Y. M. C. A. secretaries, made a fine talk at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday. His text was "Yet none of these things move me."

INDUSTRIAL AND INSTITUTIONAL DEPARTMENTS

"A first condition of Citizenship and of self-respect is the power of self-support."

THE BLACKSMITH SHOP.

By Guy Burns.

The advanced apprentices are now making some fine sets of tools.

The first part of the week the boys were given lectures on various kinds of springs.

The other lectures during the week were on the making and measurements of various axles and how to shape them for the use of different vehicles.

THE CARPENTER SHOP.

By Emanuel Ortego.

The repairing of chairs is going on as usual.

Aloysius Cheauma has finished a counter for the store at the Alumni Hall.

The laying of a new floor in the reception room at the Girls' Quarters is almost finished.

Three tables for the dining room of the Domestic Science Department are about completed.

Last week Mr. Herr gave some instruction about the different kinds of wood and their uses.

DOMESTIC ART DEPARTMENT.

By Mamie Mt. Pleasant.

One hundred work dresses were made during the past week.

Mrs. Lipps and little "Pete" were among the visitors last week.

The pupils of Room 5 made a visit to our department last Friday.

The dressmakers are very much interested in the making of Peter Thompson dresses.

THE BARBER SHOP.

By William Winneshiek.

Realizing the need of white coats for the boys, Mr. Gehringer obtained several for their use during working hours.

On account of band rehearsal last Saturday, Ora Spicer was relieved from duty. Joe Sumner substituted in his place.

New curtains, which greatly improve the appearance of the room, have been hung by Louis Flammand and Boyd Crowe.

THE BAND.

By Aloysius Cheauma.

Leon Boutwell, our solo clarinetist, is practicing on one of Mozart's choice selections.

On account of the unfavorable weather, the band did not play for the Boy Scouts to march last Saturday afternoon.

THE PAINT SHOP.

By Irvin E. Sherman.

Some of the painters have been working on the new clothing room in the Girls' Quarters.

The ceiling of the Gymnasium is a job the painters do not like to tackle, but there is only one way to go at it, and that is to tackle hard and finish it up promptly. Let "Stick" be our motto until the thing is finished.

THE STABLE.

By John Walette.

George Foulk and John Sutton were kept busy plowing the snow from the sidewalks.

The first part of the week we hauled four loads of coal to different places on the school grounds.

THE PLUMBING SHOP.

By Francis Kettle.

Mr. Weber and some of the boys are repairing lights in the Girls' Quarters.

Some of the boys spent a day repairing the water system in the guard house.

The installation of electric lights in the stable will be completed within a few days.

THE HOSPITAL.

By Emerald Bottineau.

Last Tuesday evening the lesson was on practical nursing.

The pupil nurses took an examination in that subject last Saturday afternoon.

Thursday evening was spent in reviewing all the work that has been covered thus far during the winter.

THE TIN SHOP.

By James Holstein

A large number of soup and gravy pans from the dining hall were sent over to the shop for repairs.

Last Saturday we delivered a large number of baking pans to the Domestic Science Department, and are still working on a few more for them.

THE PRINT SHOP.

By Edward A. Wood.

We are having new motors and starting-boxes installed.

We are busy "these days" getting out the February RED MAN and the Quarterly Journal.

Louis White has joined the printing force. Louis has been at Carlisle before but never worked in the print shop.

Jose Prado's parents came to visit him Saturday and remained until Monday. Jose was a very happy boy during this period.

Let Us Uphold Our Reputation.

Last Saturday evening, Carlisle inaugurated the first and only Indian Boy Scouts troop in the world. Carlisle has taken the initiative in this important movement and now it rests with her sons to uphold the honor. As we know, it is much easier to make a reputation than it is to keep it.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES.

THE MERCERS.

By Lucy West.

Following is the program for January 22d: Song, Mercers; piano solo, Ora Robitaille; vocal solo, Gertrude Sutton; Indian story, Keva Merrival; piano solo, Eleanor Hawk; funny sayings, Christy Ransom; piano solo, Theresa Lay.

The visitors were Messrs. Red Fox James, Burney, McGillis, and Bradby, our advisory member, Miss Donaldson, Miss Beach, and Mrs. Jessie Smith.

THE SUSANS.

By Uneeda Burson.

The program January 23d: Song, Susans; reporter's notes, Frances Roberts; talk on kindness, Emerald Bottineau; recitation, Ida Clark; piano solo, Elenore Wyrick; anecdotes, Cecelia Harto; piano solo, Elsie Kohpay. A letter from Eva Williams, one of our former presidents, was read by President Anna La Fernier. The visitors were our advisory member, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Ewing, Miss Boyd, and a sister Mercer, Lena Parker.

THE STANDARDS.

By George W. Tibbetts.

The following named boys were initiated: Charles Sutton, Emerson Metoxen, Hilton Schenadore, and Nesbit Weeks.

The program: Declamation, Leon Miller; essay, Emanuel Ortego; impromptu, Joseph R. Helms; oration, Aloysius Cheauma.

The question read thus: Resolved, "That the sailor is more to be honored than the soldier." Affirmative, Edwin Miller and Henry Sutton; negative, George Warrington and Scott Dewey. The affirmatives won.

The debate being opened to the house, Joseph R. Helms, James Garvie, and Gilbert Renville upheld the affirmative side; James Crane, Frank Paul, Charles Apekaum, and Francis Eastman the negative side.

Mr. Griffiths told the story of "Hamlet."

THE INVINCIBLES.

By Robert Edwards.

The Invincibles met at usual time last Friday evening and the following program was rendered: Declamation, Mathew Cata; essay, Clarence Welch; extemporaneous speeches, Robert Broker and Joseph Delorimere; select reading, Lloyd Welch; oration, David Owl.

The question: Resolved, "That the United States should hasten the completion of a great ship canal from Chicago to the Mississippi River." Affirmative, David Bird and Jesse Wofford; negatives, Andrew Beechtree and Earl Wilber. The affirmative side won.

The official visitor was Mr. Brown.

AN EVANGELISTIC MEETING.

By Pablo Herrera.

While on a visit to Mechanicsburg, Leslie James and myself had the pleasure Sunday afternoon of attending an evangelistic meeting led by Dr. Miller, of Illinois. The subject of discourse was "Men and Booze." The first thing the Doctor did when he came into the hall was to take off his coat and collar. Then he said, "Are you ready?" after which he began his sermon. Some of the good points brought out against the "booze" dealers were as follows:

Saloons are the greatest enemies of American society.

The saloons and all those of you who vote for saloon keepers are the spinal column of the devil.

The saloons are responsible for 83 per cent of the crimes committed in this country.

Saloons are worse than war and pestilence.

The law backs the saloon and manufacturer and you who are voters stand responsible for the laws. Your vote is what brings this great wrong to the honest laboring man.

It remains with you to make up your minds to clean up this great enemy of the people.

The man who says that the closing of saloons will hurt traffic is untruthful.

NOTES ABOUT EX-STUDENTS.

In a letter to a friend, Edward Bresette, who is attending school at Madison, Wis., states that he is progressing very satisfactorily with his studies.

Jerome Cadotte and Scholastica M. Bear, both former Carlisle students, were married recently in Aberdeen, S. Dak. They will make their home in Wakpala, S. Dak.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

The small girls at Quarters, Leona Bonser, Alvina Connell, Minnie Thomas, and Eleanor Wyrick gave a doll show last Friday evening. There were dolls of many styles and sizes.

The Boy Scouts' installation Saturday evening was a great success. The stage in the Auditorium was crowded with Scouts. There were also some Camp Fire girls on the stage.

One of the speakers at the installation of the Indian Boy Scouts said: "The American Indian is the original scout. Your ancestors were the greatest scouts. It is your race that has given us the idea of scouting."

Last Sunday, some of the Catholic boys and girls whose homes are on the Odanah Bad River Reservation in Wisconsin, had the pleasure of meeting Father Gordon, an Indian priest, who is from the same place.

The classes in cookery are now in full running order. Eighty-three girls in all (those of Rooms 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14) are taking the course. They are divided into five sections and each section gets two lessons a week.

After the "Boy Scout" meeting last Saturday, Boyd Crowe gave a birthday party in honor of David Bird. Among the many guests were Richard Johnson, William Ghostdog, Clarence Bennet, Joseph Helms, and Edwin Miller.

Mr. Philip Brasher, efficiency engineer for Peddie Institute, Hightstown, N. J., was a visitor at our school one day last week. He expressed himself as being favorably impressed with the way things are done here.

Eusevia Vargas gave a birthday party in honor of Dora Crow last Saturday afternoon. The guests were Clara Shunion, Mamie Mt. Pleasant and Sarah Monteith. The "goodies" consisted of sandwiches, cookies, ice cream, and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Tomas Prado Landron, of San Juan, P. R., and Mr. Gerardo Martorell, a Porto Rican student in the University of Maryland, were visitors Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Prado are the parents of Jose Prado of Room 4.
