CARLISLE, PA., MARCH 26, 1915.

NUMBER 29

GENERAL PRATT HONORED.

By Anna LaFornier.

Last Saturday evening the matrons, assisted by a number of girls, gave a dinner party in honor of General Pratt, who had arrived early in the afternoon.

The meal was served in the pretty new dining room at Girls' Quarters, which was attractively decorated for the occasion with flowers and potted plants. The Mahogany Orchestra, led by James Garvie, furnished excellent music.

The menu consisted of the following appetizing dishes: Roast chicken, dressing, gravy, mashed potatoes, jelly, radishes, mixed pickles, celery, hot biscuits, waldorf salad, fruit juice, coffee, and cake.

The guests invited to meet the General were Miss Longnecker and Miss Allen, of Moorestown, N. J. (week-end visitors), Mr. and Mrs. Lipps, Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Denny, Mr. Peel, Dr. Rendtorff, and Professor Kent.

NOTES FROM GENERAL PRATT'S TALK

By Scott Dewey and Others.

Whatever you do, do it well, even if it is just to blacken your shoes.

Whatever you undertake to do, do it in the very best way you know how.

Dancing will not help any one either, physically, morally, or spiritually.

"Be faithful in a few things and I will make you a ruler over many things."

The men who have mental power are the men who are going to manage the country.

Stick to one thing till you can get a better thing; never drop from the good to the bad.

Success does not mean the acquiring of a large amount of money and large tracts of land, but manhood and womanhood, and the high standard to which you have attained is your success.

It does not matter who your ancestors were, but it does matter very much what you are.

When you go out into the country, associate with the best class of people and you will become like them.

It matters little how far back we can trace our ancestors, but the thing that counts is what we can make of ourselves.

"Stick" to the task you undertake, no matter how small it may be; if you start now you can stick to harder and greater tasks in the future.

It is not what your ancestors were but what you are and what you are going to make of yourself. That's what counts in this world and in these times.

You cannot escape from being an example to others and to yourself, so be the very best example for yourself; be a woman among women, and a man among men; associate with people whom you desire to be like.

THE Y. W. C. A.

By Mary Welch.

The meeting was led by Amy Smith. After a hymn, the Scripture lesson was read, after which Miss Roberts led in prayer. Florence Edwards and Mary Kewaggesick each gave an excellent talk on the "Tests of Right Living." Miss Johnston also talked on the same subject. The welcome visitors for the afternoon were Miss Allen and Mrs. Longnecker. They spoke of their intention of doing all that they can for the welfare of the Indians. After another hymn the meeting was closed with the verse, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer."

THE CLUB CAT.

By Miss Bender.

One morn as the wind blew cold,
Blew bitter across the campus old,
Four kittens in the hall were found—
The children of the Club Cat bold.

As each employee to breakfast went,
Her eyes in consternation bent,
Some looked in pity and some in pride—
Others wondered what next would betide.

Hastily, pussy, kittens and all,
Out of the hall were switched,
Only to grace Alumni Hall—
Fondled and cared for by children bewitched.

Such a time to raise her kittens four,
Poor pussy knew not before,
Alas! a thought upon her dawns—
Besides Room 17 her kittens she pawns.

So now upon the back porch they rest,
"Beautiful John," Claud Vivien, Bonny-Bell
Foster, Overton Love;
No need to worry about traps to set,
For "kindness to animals" is doing her best.

OSAGE INDIANS ORGANIZE CLUB.

SPECIAL TO THE ARROW.

A society known as the Wah-shad-she-kee-sto (Osage Council), has been organized here among the Osage Indians for the purpose of the protection of the interests of the Osage Indians. The betterment of the tribe, in any way that might be presented to the members of the society, will be considered. The officers of the new society are: Harry Kohpay, chief; George Ed Tinker, chairman; A. T. Woodward, secretary; Elmer Wheeler, treasurer; Paul Red Eagle, guard. The executive committee consists of Shun-kah-mo-lah, William Pryor, W. F. Mosier, F. N. Revard, S. W. Perkins, and Frank Watson. A special meeting of the society has been called for March 3, to meet with the members of the Osage National Council before the latter leave for Washington, where they will appear before the department in the matter of the renewal of the Foster oil lease.

THE BAND.

By Charles Harrison.

James Garvie and Alanson Lay are taking daily exercise by sifting cinders for the track.

The second band boys made their first appearance in a public concert with the first band last Saturday evening.

Harry H. Bonser, Carlisle '14, who was one of the leading musicians of last year's band, writes that he is married and living happily in Polson, Mont.

The band, as a whole, gave a fine concert last Saturday evening, considering the fact that more than half of the members are beginners, having joined since Mr. Tyrrell became director.

ATHLETICS.

By George A. Francis.

Coach O'Neal arrived on the 15th and regular work of the lacrosse team begun at once.

The opening game of the season to-morrow afternoon will be played with Baltimore City College, on our field.

Edward Ambrose, captain of the "Reds," was the first one to call out his men for practice. They defeated the "Golds" on the 20th, which was the opening game of the season. Score 7 to 5.

A temporary schedule has been arranged for the baseball league. The games are to be played on Wednesdays and Saturdays. A complete schedule will be announced later.

At the opening game of the school league, Mr. Meyer and Mr. Griffiths announced that there would be a reception and a prize for the team that wins the championship at the end of the season. Also those who win the highest average in batting, fielding, and pitching, the best utility man, and the man who steals the most bases during the season will be allowed to attend the reception.

George Murrow, George May, and Charles Peters, all experienced men on the track, have reenforced the track team.

Frank Mitchell, our little long distance runner, will be entered in the B. A. A. 26-mile race to be held in Boston, on the 19th of next month.

The next indoor meet will be with Syracuse University, at Buffalo, N. Y., on the 9th of April. The relay team is to be made up of four men, to run, respectively, 220 yds., 440 yds., half mile, and one mile.

The board track has been removed and a cinder track laid out, on which the track men are now training daily.

BOY SCOUT NOTES.

By Ralph Tourtillotte.

The Scouts will sell ice cream and cake at the social Saturday evening.

Levi Jeminson, Harry Charles, and Obed Axtell were recently sworn in as Scouts.

The Scouts are lining up for their baseball team. They have elected Obed Axtell, captain, and Fred Blythe, manager.

The Catholic troop was installed by officers of the Boy Scouts of America. It is now known as Troop Six of the Carlisle District.

The Boy Scouts will go in a body Sunday to hear Jack Crawford, a western Scout of early days, who will talk to the Scouts in the Carlisle Opera House.

Jose Gonzalo has been taken in as a first-class Scout. He is the only second-class Scout who has passed the first-class test. Several others are preparing for their first-class test.

Red Fox James and Fred Blythe, Assistant Scout Master and president of Troop Five, have returned from their trip to Greencastle and Shippensburg. Mr. James talked to the Boy Scouts at the Gem Theatre in Greencastle. They stopped off at Shippensburg, on their way back, to hear "Bob Johnson," an evangelist, and while there they were entertained by the Y. M. C. A.

IF WE neglect to exercise any talent, power, or quality it soon falls away from us.—Henry Wood.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

Mr. Lipps went to Washington, D. C., last Sunday.

General Pratt expressed himself as being greatly opposed to dancing.

General Pratt complimented the band and Mr. Tyrrell on their fine playing.

Mr. Peel took a number of girls out for a pleasant walk to Cave Hill, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. LaFlesche and Mr. Dagenett came up from Washington, D. C., for the week-end.

Each of the Juniors has chosen a tree to observe and study during the rest of the school year.

Miss Verna L. Dunagan, of Centre Point, Ind., arrived last week to take charge of the music department.

Called home on account of illness in the family, Cecelia Harto left for Odanah, Wis., last Saturday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Rendtorff are being congratulated upon the arrival of a fine new baby boy, Monday, March 22.

Mr. Rey F. Heagy, of Palmyra, Pa., the newly appointed teacher of mathematics, arrived last Monday evening.

George Pike, a former freshman and now attending the Millersville Normal School, is here for his Easter vacation.

General Pratt told us about his trips to foreign countries, and how at every place he was asked about the Carlisle school.

Professor Kent, of the Manhattan Agricultural College, Kans., who had been with us for several weeks, left for his home Sunday afternoon.

A committee of six girls waited upon General Pratt and asked him if they might have his picture for their new reception room at Quarters.

Lida Shongo surprised her friends by sending an announcement of her recent marriage to William Scott. They are to live on a farm near Gowanda, N. Y.

Mrs. Canfield has received the sad news of the death of her sister, Mrs. Postlewaite, of Medford, Okla. Mrs. Postlewaite had been ill for some time and passed away at 2:30 Sunday morning, March 21, 1915.

THE BLACKSMITH SHOP.

By Guy Burns.

During the week six horses were shod.

Three carts were repaired and a number of handles and hangers were made.

THE PAINT SHOP.

By Joseph Morrin.

The steam pipes in the Dining Hall were bronzed.

A china closet for the Girl's Quarters was stained and waxed.

The first of the week Eli Swallow and Leslie James transacted a little business in town for Mr. Carns.

The cracks in the floors in one of the rooms in the Domestic Science Department were filled and the floor waxed. Also the pipes and several laundry tubs and sinks.

THE PLUMBING SHOP.

By Francis Kettle.

A new light was put in the front porch of the Girls' Quarters.

After a long illness, Chauncey Williams has returned to work.

New lights have been placed in the disciplinarian's office at Large Boys' Quarters. They are a decided improvement over the old ones.

The lighting of the stable is completed now. The material for this was ordered some time ago, but a long delay in the delivery occurred, which accounts for the lateness in installing the light.

THE PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

By Marie Belbeck.

At their 8:00 o'clock morning class the student teachers have been studying the "Will" and the "Memory."

For the past two weeks the pupils in the Primary Department have been using the horse as the subject of their nature and language lessons.

Some of the boys from the farms told some very interesting facts about the care of a horse which we, the student teachers, were glad to learn. We compared the weight of the load that a horse can carry with that which a man can carry. On Friday the pupils wrote the summary of their lessons and illustrated their papers by many interesting pictures about the horse.

The next subject taken up will be about birds.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT.

By Rosa Allen.

Lizzie Allen has been the housekeeper during the week.

The lesson was on the making of gingercake and cornmeal mush.

The afternoon girls made salmon balls last Friday. Evelyn Schingler's were voted the best.

We also fried bacon and steak on our new stoves, and studied the principles which apply to frying foods containing proteins and carbohydrates.

THE LAUNDRY.

By Lena Parker.

We are glad to have Addie Hovermale with us again.

Mary Pleets, Rachel Caby, Lena Blackchief, Pauline Chisholm, Nancy Whitewash, and Stella Redstar have been transferred from the Dining Hall to the Laundry.

THE SHEET METAL SHOP.

By James Holstein.

A garbage can for the Teachers' Club was repaired.

A stove for Mr. Dickey was overhauled and relined.

A large oil can was made for the Domestic Science Department.

A new pipe over the meat boilers of the kitchen was installed during the past week.

THE PRINT SHOP.

By Juan Guterres.

The March RED MAN was put out during the week.

Mr. Brown has continued his instructions in the division of words.

We are glad to have with us again Charles Walker, who has been out of the shop since last May.

Elmer Poodry, one of our job press workers, has been busy during the week putting out several odd jobs.

James Eagle, who was in Washington, D. C., for a few days, sent Mr. Brown a card which contained the picture of the Government Printing Office.

THE CARPENTER SHOP.

By Loverne Bonser.

Mr. Herr, with the assistance of some of the boys, is making the mill work for the Domestic Science Cottage.

Emanuel Ortego is building a small playhouse, which is to be sent to some of Mr. DeHuff's relatives down in Georgia.

During the past week Mr. Gardner and some boys took down the frame work of the new Domestic Science Cottage. It will be erected back of Teachers' Quarters, as soon as the masons finish the foundation.

THE FIRST FARM.

By Jacob Spokogee.

George Kaquatosh was on the sick list during the week.

The past week was spent repairing the old fence around the farm.

Last Friday the boys on the second farm began their spring plowing. They were disappointed to see snow fall, which stopped plowing for the present.

THE HOSPITAL.

By Mary Horsechief.

Lena Watson and Alice Tyndall were on the sick list last week.

The lessons this week were demonstrations on bed making and a review of practical nursing.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

Robert Nash was a week-end visitor.

James Garvie is the cartoonist of the Senior Class.

A clothes-pressing room has been fitted out in Large Boys' Quarters.

Each member of the Sophomore class has been given a special tree to study.

William Bannock has made a beautiful table which resembles mahogany and it is as substantial as it is beautiful.

Charles Peters, our little two-mile runner, has come in from the country and will try to win more honors for Carlisle.

The students are eagerly watching for signs of spring. Hardly a bird has yet returned to its accustomed haunt on the ground.

Mark Yasteya writes from Laguna, N. M., that he is getting along well working at his trade of carpentering. He sends best wishes to all those who remember him.

Miss Johnston told the Y. W. C. A. girls last Sunday of the good work that is being done for the Outing girls who are under the care of our Quaker friends.

Margaret Pickett arrived safely at her home in Montana, and is now enjoying a few weeks' visit with old acquaintances, after which she hopes to continue nurse's training.

General Pratt, who accompanied the inspection party through Large Boys' Quarters last Sunday, was very much pleased with the general appearance of the boys' rooms.

Last Wednesday at assembly, the girls sang Carlisle songs and the mandolin club gave a few selections in honor of Miss Wetzel, of Ithaca, N. Y. who was the guest of Mrs. Ewing.

Last Sunday evening Mr. Springer illustrated his talk with a fish hook. He said that evil catches the boys and girls in the same way that the little fishes are caught by the hook.

Miss Johnston, accompanied by two of our week-end visitors, Mrs. Emma Longnecker, and Miss Susan J. Allen, both of Moorestown, N. J., visited some of the school rooms last Monday. Miss Allen is on the committee of the Quaker school at Quaker Bridge, N. Y.

The girls' reception room is beautifully furnished and is very homelike. The curtains were made by the girls in the plain-sewing class. The girls are proud of their new reception room.

On account of illness the Rev. Mr. Price did not preach at the Methodist Church last Sunday, so Dr. Hutchison substituted in his place. Those who did not stay for church missed a fine sermon.

Many of the students were surprised to learn of the march towards civilization which the ancient Incas had made. Students read "The Conquest of Peru" if you would learn about the Incas.

General Pratt, the "Father of Carlisle," talked to the student body somewhat as a kind father would to his children whom he was encouraging to depend more on themselves than on anyone else.

The lacrosse team practiced all last week out on the Athletic Field, and the goals are now put up. Among the promising candidates are George Francis and Charles White-wolf. Both of these men are fast and they handle the stick perfectly.

Anna LaFerneir, Mary Raiche, and Sadie Metoxen were the guests of Miss Bender and Mr. McGillis for dinner at the Teachers' Club last Sunday. Others at the table were Mr. Burney and Mr. O'Neal. After dinner all went for a walk to the Cave.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES OF LAST WEEK.

By Lawrence Silverheels.

The Y. M. C. A. held a cabinet meeting last Wednesday evening at which they gave their annual report.

Good music was furnished by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra. Charles Harrison and Stephen St. Clair gave an instrumental duet which was very pleasing.

Mr. Kelchun, the Albright College coach, was the speaker. His subject was "The Game of Life."

The next speaker will be the Rev. Mr. Steck, of Carlisle. Let us have a good number present to hear him.

THE SUNDAY EVENING PROTESTANT SERVICE.

By David Peever.

We were fortunate last Sunday evening in having with us General R. H. Pratt and Rev. Mr. Springer, a retired army chaplain, now a resident of Carlisle and an old-time friend of General Pratt. Mr. Springer gave us a splendid talk on "Temptation." He pictured to us Christ's Temptation and the agony he endured, because, as he said, "Christ was very human." Mr. Springer and General Pratt had visited the scenes of Christ's temptation and the story as given was very vivid.

General Pratt spoke with deep feeling of his continued interest in the welfare of the Indians. He admonished the students to make the most of their opportunity to "stick" until success crowned their efforts.

The singing, conducted by Miss Dunigan, was enthusiastic, especially when the audience sang one of General Pratt's favorites, "Send the Light."

THE CATHOLIC MEETING.

By George White.

The meeting opened with a prayer and a hymn.

Father Stock told us of the reality and necessity of the Passion of Our Lord. He led us in spirit, through His sufferings and the Crucifixion.

After another hymn the benediction followed.
