MR. GRIFFITHS'S FAREWELL TALK.

Last Sunday evening, in giving his farewell talk to the large boys, Mr. Griffiths said among other things:

"If you learn how to use your head accurately, success is bound to come.

"Live a clean life. Take advantage of your opportunities and learn to figure.

"You can't blame anyone for what you turn out to be; for it all depends on your own efforts.

"If you get down and out you can not be kept there so long as you know mathematics and can handle a pencil rightly.

"Be true, and make men of yourselves. If at any time you need a recommendation, and I learn that you have done right, I shall be glad to help you and recommend you."

THE CATHOLIC MEETING.

By Max LaChapelle.

The meeting opened with a prayer, after which a hymn was sung.

Father Stock then explained that life is, or should be, a preparation for death. He said we should look after our spiritual welfare just as we look after our business interests, so that we may always be prepared for the end.

Benediction followed after another hymn.

NOTES FROM ROOM NO. 8

We had our final examination in geography on Friday. Our next one will be in physiology.

"April showers bring May flowers." Just so, hard, earnest work in April will bring success in our final May test.

Eight boys of our class availed themselves of the opportunity of going to Harrisburg to hear Sousa's band. In telling of the trip, they very modestly acknowledged his band to be superior to our own.

Owen Woottakewahbitty has been the honor pupil for five months, with Nettie Standing Bear a close rival for the position.

Greetings have been received from Xavier Downwind, Charles Littlechief, Otto Thunder, and John Welch. All report good homes and interest in their work.

At the handicap meet, on Saturday, Room 8 boys figured prominently. George May captured three first prizes, and Perry Keotah one, while Louis Headly and Leon Miller were also prize winners.

DEPARTED FOR TACOMA, WASH.

*Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths left Monday evening for Tacoma, Wash., where Mr. Griffiths has accepted a remunerative position. They went from here to New York, where they embarked on the steamer "Creole" for New Orleans. From there they will go via El Paso, to San Diego, and thence to San Francisco, where they will remain for a few days to see something of the Exposition before going on to their destination.

NOTES FROM ROOM NO. 9.

Charles Peters won three first prize medals in the handicap meet last Saturday afternoon.

We are greatly interested in reviewing the work in arithmetic, physiology, and geography.

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. Deitz gave us an interesting talk on the history of art, showing that much of it can be traced back to the Egyptians.

Our classmate, Thomas Hawk Eagle, a member of the football team, is again trying for the lacrosse team.

A letter was received from Roger Mumblehead stating that he is enjoying life under the Outing.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths will be greatly missed by everyone.

Miss Roberts and the student teachers spent Saturday afternoon at Mt. Holly.

Mrs. Victoria Brooks, of Rosebud, S. Dak., is here visiting her sister, Alice Tyndall.

The band is improving in marching and they certainly make a fine appearance in their new uniforms.

The weather is so pleasant now that the boys enjoy long walks into the country during their leisure hours.

The band concert Sunday was very enjoyable, especially when the selections were accompanied by the chimes.

Last Saturday Laura Merrival, Della Carter, Frances Roberts, and Mary Welch had a cosy little dinner in the pretty dining room at Girls' Quarters.

At a farmers' institute held at Rosholt, S. Dak., recently, Robert Weatherstone, a popular student here at one time, was awarded first premium for Marcus Wheat. "Bob" has been farming his allotment since he left Carlisle and is evidently "making good" as a farmer.

EX-STUDENTS AT OWYHEE, NEV.

Miss Clara D. Youngs, who was for a couple of years our head nurse, is now at Owyhee, Nev. She sends news of the following ex-students: Charlie McKee, Fitz Hugh Lee Smith, Henry Thomas, Emma Quinn, and Peter Jackson.

Emma Quinn is married to Harry Ebe. She has four children.

Charlie McKee is married. He has charge of the stables and is getting along very well.

Henry Thomas and Fitz Hugh Lee Smith are both married. They also are doing well.

To-morrow the following named men will go to Philadelphia to take part in the relay carnival races: Lewis Coons, Charles Harrison, George May, and George Tibbetts. The fifth man to go will be a toss-up between George Warrington and Isaac Shuckahosse.

Since the handicap event, all interest is now centered in the class meet.

On the 13th, in the game between the Golds and the Grays, the former won by the score of 7 to 1. On the following day the Grays and the Reds played, the former winning by the score of 4 to 3. On the 15th two games were played, the first between "C" men and a team picked from the Reds and Grays. The score ended in a tie of 3 to 3. The fourth game was between the Golds and the Blues. These teams are fighting for first place. The game ended in a tie of 10 to 10.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT.

By Rosa Allen.

The study of cereals was continued during the past week.

As the diningroom is all furnished now, we are given lessons on the planning and serving of meals, and also on table manners.

The Saturday morning class made doughnuts and cookies for Miss Roberts and the student teachers, who went to Mt. Holly in the afternoon.

Tuesday a breakfast was served by the morning class. The class was divided into families, one girl in each family acting as the mistress, who divided the work among her family.

THE SUNDAY EVENING PROTESTANT SERVICE.

By Hobart Jamison.

The service was conducted by Charles Harrison. Henry Sutton read the Scripture lesson, after which Mr. Clevett offered a prayer.

Professor Morset was the speaker; he read an account of the life of Job, which man he called one of the Bible's strongest characters.

The meeting closed by singing the Lord's Prayer.

BOY SCOUT NOTES.

By Ralph Tourtilotte.

Clarence Welch passed the first-class test.

Wayne Gray and Paul Gehringer were sworn in as second-class Scouts.

A second team, to give the first team practice, is being organized among the Scouts.

Troop 5 held a special meeting last Thursday, and the first-class Scouts received their badges.

A few of the Scouts took a trip to Cave Hill Sunday, where they rented a lantern and explored the Cave.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

By STUDENT REPORTERS.

Everybody is eagerly looking forward to commencement.

Elmer Busch left Sunday afternoon for his home in California.

Ten boys received communion at St. Patrick's Church, Sunday morning.

The Freshman class are learning the names of many different trees and flowers.

About forty boys went to Harrisburg last Wednesday night to hear Sousa's band.

"The Wedding of the Winds" was played very pleasingly by the band last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer are now settled in the cottage formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Warner.

Professor Morset in his talk last Sunday evening said: "The great purpose of man's creation is service."

Last Sunday Miss Austin chaperoned the girls to the first farm, where they had their fill of butter-milk.

In the handicap meet on Saturday afternoon George May captured three first places, which means three medals.

Mr. Claude M. Stauffer, our former band leader, was one of our visitors Sunday afternoon during the band concert.

In studying agriculture, the Junior class is divided into four groups and each group has a special topic to read and to study.

Charles Peters, our little distance runner, captured first place in the mile and two mile last Saturday at the handicap meet.

Gus Welch, with a number of college friends, came through the schoolrooms last Monday. The teachers are always pleased to see Gus.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting last Wednesday evening was postponed on account of a number of the boys being absent on business away from the school.

Miss Bender went to Hampton Institute Thursday to take part in the anniversary celebration of her Alma Mater. She read a paper on "The Experience of a Hampton Graduate."

AND INSTITUTIONAL DEPARTMENTS

"A first condition of Citizenship and of self-respect is the power of self-support."

THE PLUMBING SHOP.

By Francis Kettle.

The lights in Mr. Abrams house were repaired.

The swinging chairs and the seesaws were brought out.

Mr. Weber repaired the crank shaft on the gasoline engine.

A small job of electric lighting in the baker shop was done during the week.

The water line to the concrete mixer for the new cottage was completed.

One day last week Mr. Weber explained to some of the boys the difference between steam and electricity.

THE CARPENTER SHOP.

By Loverne Bonser.

Work on the three new cottages is progressing satisfactorily.

William Thayer, Ovilla Azure, and Aloyious Cheuma are working all day on these buildings.

The whole carpenter force are working on the cottages and the Domestic Science cottage.

THE DOMESTIC ART DEPARTMENT.

By Mamie Mt. Pleasant.

The senior girls are being detailed to the department to make their graduating dresses.

The hat frames are nearly all covered with different shades of straw. They are now ready for trimming.

Sallie Greybeard and Martha Wheelock have been promoted from the plain-sewing class to the plain dress-making class.

THE LAUNDRY.

By Lena Parker.

Delia Edwards has joined our force.

Mary Kewaygeshik and Marie Mason have gone from the laundry to the sewing room so that they may work on their graduating dresses.

THE PAINT SHOP.

By Joseph Morrin.

Several window lights were placed in different buildings.

As soon as time permits, the lawn swings, which are now in the shop, will receive a coat of paint.

Owing to the amount of work to be done at Small Boys' Quarters, the time for other work is limited.

The fire escapes, which were taken from the Atheltic Quarters, have been painted. The giant strides in front of Small Boys' and Girls' Quarters have also been painted.

HORTICULTURE.

By Henry Herrera.

During the week we planted, in the school garden, peas, lettuce, radishes, cabbage, and onions.

The greenhouse boys are very busy transplanting seedlings into small pots for bedding and garden.

We have sown four bushels of grass seed and put on a ton of lawn fertilizer to improve the color of our lawn.

Under the direction of Mr. Abrams, all of our trees have been sprayed during the past week with a solution of lime-sulphur to destroy the eggs laid on the trunks during the winter season.

THE BAND.

By Charles Harrison.

The band is improving by marching to its own music every noon.

The monthly concert was given last Saturday evening in the Auditorium.

A short outdoor program was rendered last Sunday afternoon. There were several visitors from town.

On last Wednesday evening about forty of the band boys made a trip to Harrisburg to hear Sousa's band. One noticeable result of the treat is improvement in expression.

THE PRINT SHOP.

By Juan Guterres.

The job men are now busy working on the School Catalogue, which will be out soon.

Robert Geronimo, who left here sometime ago, sends remembrances to his apprentice friends from Mt. Hermon, Mass.

A Chandler Price 10 by 15 new model job press was brought in during the past week, which will take the place of an old one.

THE SHEET METAL SHOP.

By James Holstein.

A wooden sink, for use at the Teachers' Club, was relined.

We were working on the roof and spouting of the Teachers' Club.

We put new bottoms in some garbage cans from the Large Boys' Quarters.

We received some repair work from the different departments during the past week.

THE HOSPITAL.

By Lyman Madison.

Mrs. Wyldé has been transferred to the Hayward Indian School. She will leave here April 30.

Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Brooks, Alice Tyndall's sister, arrived from South Dakota. In a short time Alice will go home with her.

A bed of sweet peas has been planted on the east side of the open-air porch. It is watched daily to see when the first plants will appear.

Three dwelling houses are being built just south of the hospital. When the residents move in, it will be much pleasanter about the grounds.

THE FIRST FARM.

By Jacob Spokogee.

General work was done during the past week.

The boys have almost finished plowing. There is now only one small field to do, and they can easily finish that during the week.

CHIPPEWAS REPORTED TURNING EAGERLY TO FARMING.

Teacher at the Leech Lake School Tells How Braves Grasp Plow Handles.

The native Chippewa Indians will solve the agricultural problems of northern Minnesota.

An influx of immigrants is not essential. Beginning with boys just old enough to learn to read and write, the interest in crop growing is spreading, and the old bucks, once thought too lazy to exert themselves in anything so prosaic as tending a garden, have seized the plow handles with the same fervor they used to shake out their steel traps for the winter pelt season. And that transplanted enthusiasm promises to do much in redeeming the fertile cut-over lands and swamps.

Such is the belief of Mrs. J. B. Thompson, teacher in the Leech Lake Reservation School at Onigum, who was in Minneapolis yesterday, Mr. Thompson is superintendent of the school.

MANY PROSPEROUS INDIAN FARMERS.

"No study, in practice or theory, delights the Indian boy so much as farming," said Mrs. Thompson. "Under a trained expert from the Department of Agriculture the sixty boys in our institution are made familiar with all the phases of the vocation. They demand to be shown all they can learn on our demonstration plots at the school and declare they will put the training to use as soon as the Government turns over to them their allotments.

"Our beginnings are confined chiefly to the growth of potatoes and other vegetables, and corn and oats, with the idea of making every Indian family self-supporting. But there are dozens of Indian farms in this region running over 100 acres each and raising the same field and garden products of counties to the south.

DEMONSTRATION FARM PLOTS.

"A Government agricultural agent has been secured by Reservation Superintendent C. F. Mayer and demonstration farm plots laid out in ample areas for the benefit of the adult Indians. The agent also visits the family clearings at intervals of a few weeks and talks over the puzzles of stump blasting, soil testing, breaking and seeding that confronts the Indian.

"He advises him of the proper season for sowing the seed, helps him select and grade the seed, and tells him what grains can be successfully raised in that climate.

"To the Indians who show a desire to go ahead, widen out their clearings and make their land holdings of value, the Government is advancing a good portion of the 'timber sale money' held in trust for the wards. The best of modern equipment on a small scale is purchased with the funds and as the need for more machinery is felt further sums will be turned over. Without going into debt the Indian is enabled to get a good start on a farm from land virtually unbroken and to support himself."—Minneapolis Tribune.

RESULTS.

The following special dispatch from Bemidji, Minn., to the Duluth (Minn.) News-Tribune indicates the results of the enforcement of the provisions of the Indian treaty of 1855 prohibiting the liquor traffic in that section of Minnesota:

"According to police records, the number of arrests in saloonless Bemidji since the first of the year is less than one-seventh of the number made the year before, when Bemidji had saloons. The total number of arrests from January 7 to March 27 of last year was 115, while the total from January 1 of this year to date is 15."

HENRY ROE CLOUD AT WICHITA.

Fairmont students and faculty members were given the opportunity of learning directly from an Indian the real needs of the red man. Rev. Henry Roe Cloud, a Winnebago Indian, said to be one of the best educated members of his race, was the speaker.

"Leaders are needed by my people," said he. "These leaders we must make by giving Christian education to Indian children. Christian education will enable these leaders to bring their people to Christ, the only way to save them.

"In order to educate in the proper manner men of my race to lead their brothers, we will establish in this community a small school, which we hope will grow and prosper in due time."—Indian School Journal

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

Mr. Mann sends greetings to the Sophomores.

Last week, on Tuesday, Mr. Abrams demonstrated to the Juniors how to prune a tree.

Mr. W. P. McGuire, editor of Boys' Life, the official magazine of the Boy Scouts, was a Sunday afternoon caller on the campus.

Y. W. C. A. girls from Irving College led the Sunday afternoon meeting which was held in the Grove. Miss Burnen gave a good talk on "Sociability."

Monday morning Miss Yoos took the girls from the Domestic Art Department to the millinery stores down town so that they might observe styles and general effects.

A card received from the National Geographical Society states that Mrs. Rosa B. La Flesche has renewed, for the benefit of the Susan Longstreth Literary Society, the subscription to the National Geographic Magazine, beginning July 1st.

One of the exciting features of the track meet last Saturday was the hundred yard dash for employees, which was won by Mr. Coons. Mr. Clevett and Mr. Hill finished in the order named. Mr. Denny was also a strong contender.

The fiftieth anniversary of Lincoln's death was observed last Thursday by having the flag at half-mast and by holding exercises on the Campus. Mr. Griffiths read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and Whitman's "Oh, Captain! My Captain!"

Last week, guns and cartridge belts were given to the boys to keep in their own rooms. Each one must polish his own gun and have everything in shape for the next dress parade. The number of the guns were taken and each boy will be held responsible for his own.

Sad Death of Ex-Student.

Information comes to us that Nancy Delorimere Chingwa died April 10th.

Nancy and her husband, Louis Chingwa, were both popular students here at one time, and Carlisle extends its sympathy to the sorrowing husband and his little four-year old son
