

The Carlisle Arrow

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER PRINTED DURING THE SCHOOL YEAR BY STUDENTS OF THE CARLISLE INDIAN SCHOOL

VOLUME XI

CARLISLE, PA., MAY 14, 1915.

NUMBER 36

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

Mary Chief writes of a pleasant home at Riverton, N. J. She sends regards to her friends.

There were thirty-one girls who went to communion at the Catholic Church Sunday morning.

While the lacrosse team was at Lehigh they saw Xavier Downwind, one of the Outing students.

We are in receipt of pleasant greetings from Mrs. A. G. Wylde, who is now at Hayward, Wis.

Hereafter the commissioned officers of the Girls' Quarters will wear caps and the other officers will wear stripes.

A pleasing feature of the Mercers' farewell program was the guitar duet by Lillian Walker and Jane Gayton.

To-night the Invincibles and the Standards will give, in their respective halls, farewell programs to close the year's work.

The Varsity baseball team is rounding into big league form in preparation for the several games with outside teams during Commencement.

The Y.W.C.A. members enjoyed Miss Stilly's talk. The three strong points she brought out were "God, home, and native land." She illustrated the meaning of "native land" by movements with the flag.

After the farewell program of the girls' societies Friday evening, a few of the boys were invited to visit the girls' assembly during their prayer formation. While there they related their method of retiring and other incidents that occur at their quarters. It is always a treat to hear the girls sing the Lord's prayer.

Mrs. Howard Quay, formerly Daphne Waggener, accompanied by her little daughter Aurelia, and a friend, Mrs. John Mumbauer, stopped over for a short time last Friday on their way to Keldron, S. Dak., where they will make their home. Mr. Quay and Mr. Mumbauer went to Dakota some time ago to prepare for the ladies' home coming.

INDIAN ATHLETES IN THE FORD FACTORY.

There probably never has been, in the history of the world, a democracy quite so purely and thoroughly democratic as the factory of the Ford Motor Company. In the Ford shop, making Ford cars, are titled Europeans, sons of American millionaires, refugees from the oppression and poverty of the Old World, American college students, and now American Indians. Since last winter there have been working in the Ford factory six students of the Carlisle Indian School. Their Ford experience—in practical motor car making—is a part of their school training and will last about nine months, when they return to their classroom studies at Carlisle. The most distinguished of the Carlisle boys probably is Peter Calac, a full-blood Mission, who was captain and fullback of the famous Carlisle football team of 1914. All six are clean-cut, clear-eyed, earnest young Americans. Their ambition and effectiveness are shown in the weekly reports of the Ford investigator. These reports all go back to their principal at Carlisle.—New York (N. Y.) American.

APPOINTED SUPERINTENDENT OF CARLISLE.

Yesterday forenoon Mr. Lipps received a letter from Washington notifying him of his designation as superintendent of this school.

Prior to that time his official designation was that of supervisor in the Indian Service, temporarily in charge of this school. Carlisle is to be congratulated on the change.

NO ARROW NEXT WEEK.

On account of the Commencement activities during next week, no issue of THE ARROW will appear.

NOTES FROM THE ADMINISTRATION OFFICE.

So satisfactory has been the records of the six boys now taking the student's course in the Ford Automobile Works, Detroit, Michigan, that the Ford people have agreed to give the same opportunity to a number of other Carlisle boys during the coming summer. Accordingly twelve or fifteen boys who have good records and who have proven their sincerity and worth will be given this opportunity. They will leave here about June first.

After this year the building heretofore known as "Athletic Quarters" will be designated "Annex" and will, in reality, be an annex to the large boys' quarters. Rooms in the "Annex" will be assigned to boys as a reward for merit and without regard as to whether or not they are members of any of the athletic teams. No training tables will be conducted in the "Annex." They will be conducted in the large dining hall, following the practice of conducting such tables at all other Indian schools. Forty boys will be assigned to the "Annex" next year and they will constitute a Troop and will be under the same discipline as all the other troops of the school.

Indians Defeat Conway Hall Track Team.

In a dual meet on Biddle Field, Wednesday afternoon, May 5th, a team from Small Boys' Quarters defeated the Conway Hall track team, 78 to 39. Although younger than the Conway team, the Carlisle boys won a decided victory because of better training. The stars for Carlisle were Tibbetts, Peters, and Axtell.

On the 5th, a track team from the Small Boys' Quarters met Conway Hall on Biddle Field and defeated them by the score of 79 to 38.

On the 5th the golds met their first defeat from the Grays. Score, 9 to 8. On the following day the Golds defeated the Reds. Score, 9 to 3. On the 8th the Reds defeated the Grays. Score, 7 to 4. While the Grays and the Reds were playing on the lower field, the Blues and the Golds played on the upper field, which game ended in the defeat of the Blues. Score, 6 to 5.

Batting averages for the four baseball teams up to May 5th are as follows: Golds lead with an average of 397, Blues 392, Grays 367, and Reds 352.

A team picked from the four teams will play Conway Hall on Monday and Albright college on Thursday during commencement week.

On the 8th our lacrosse team played Lehigh at South Bethlehem. At the end of 35 minutes the game was called off. Score, 3 to 0 in favor of Lehigh.

Track season is about over. Our big field track and interscholastic events will come off during commencement week.

THE FIRST FARM.

By Jacob Spokogee.

Nick Bradley is seen every morning driving his new cart. He seems well pleased with it.

Messrs. Zeph Simmons, L. Wagner, G. Lafferty and A. Pepion came to the first farm to help prepare potatoes for planting.

During the past week Mr. Gray and the boys planted potatoes in the field near the barn. They will soon finish the job.

Wilford Eshelman has been doing good work since he joined the farm detail. He expects to reap a good crop for his labors.

John Buffalo and George Kaquatosh spent Sunday in Newville, Pa., visiting some of their friends. They report a pleasant time.

THE SUNDAY EVENING PROTESTANT SERVICE.

By Madella Anderson.

Sarah Monteith led the meeting and read from the scriptures the eighth chapter of Proverbs.

Julia Frechette offered a prayer.

Miss Stilly gave an interesting talk pertaining to Y. W. C. A. work in general.

The rest of the evening was devoted to an illustrated talk on Eagles Mere, given by Paul Baldeagle.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

BY STUDENT REPORTERS.

Julia Hill writes of a pleasant country home in Oak Lane, Pa.

Ora Robitaille was the guest of Alvena Connell at Sunday dinner.

Boys, cheer up, the worst is yet to come, and that is—the parting of friends.

Many of the town people came out to hear our Sunday afternoon band concert.

The feature of the events in the dual meet Saturday was the two-mile run won by Charles Peters.

Sunday many of our boys and girls were seen wearing white carnations in honor of "Mothers' Day."

Final examinations are over, and the look of worry on the faces of several students has disappeared.

Miss Stilly in her talk in the Y.M. C.A. room said, "Live a pure life, make a godly home and love your country."

Mr. and Mrs. Juan Herrera are living in Mechanicsburg, where Mr. Herrera is working at his trade of plumbing.

Anna LaFerner left last Wednesday morning for Philadelphia, where she will undergo medical treatment at Medico Chi Hospital.

Joel Wheelock, Carlisle '12, who is attending Lebanon Valley, made many points for his college at the track meet last Saturday.

A number of girls were permitted to go down town to a social held by the Methodist Sunday School last Friday evening. Each one reported a good time.

Mrs. DeHuff and daughter Ann Wilson returned from Georgia last Sunday afternoon. Mr. DeHuff met them in Washington upon their arrival there Sunday forenoon.

The regular dress parade was omitted last Friday, and instead the band boys and Boy Scouts had their pictures taken separately and in groups. Mr. Denny had his pony's picture taken also.

Lieutenant John Clinton Foster and Mrs. Foster, recently of Norfolk, Va., enroute to New Orleans, where Lieutenant Foster has been ordered for duty, stopped over for a visit with their mother, Mrs. E. H. Foster.

Europe's Big Drought.

(FROM THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE, HOUSTON, TEXAS.)

Behold what they are doing across the water.

The Czar of Russia has made Sahara look like a clover patch, while Lloyd-George's latest contribution causes the assertions and aservations of the Anti-Saloon League's flying squadron to listen like the rustle of September winds among dry leaves.

Without qualm or qualification he classes King Alcohol with Kaiser William and old Franz-Joseph.

"England," says he, "is fighting three enemies, Germany, Austria and drink, but the worst of these is drink."

The merchants of His Britanic Majesty's kingdom will seal their wine cellars, and there will, if the little Welshman has his way, be a remarkable dryness over all the land.

How dull London would seem with the lights out and the barmaids all at work in the arsenals, and how colorless Paris will appear with nothing to drink but the Seine.

Peace must be nearer than ever.

If Europe is dry it will be sober, and sober folks won't carry on such a useless quarrel for any great length of time.

The German emperor foreswore drinking before the outbreak of hostilities.

His neighbors and his nation will perhaps follow suit.

This war has tested the courage and capacity of everyone. Liquor has been found to interfere with efficiency. Liquor does not interfere with efficiency in war, however, more than with efficiency in peace.

Possibly the discovery that they can conduct better wars when sober may lead the kings and governors of Europe to conclude that they can keep a better peace in the same condition.

Stress has driven Europe to sobriety, and so stress will do with every man or community. No man under strain wants to have his senses and capabilities impaired.

The railroads of America discovered what the abuse of liquor cost them long ago.

Drunkenness is coming to be looked upon in the right light. It is no longer regarded as funny.

Every constructive agency in the world is against it.

Nothing in the history of the world has emphasized man's awakening to the disastrous effects of over indulgence in strong drink like this present war, and this present war has done so merely because it called forth his utmost strength which he found himself unable to exert except when sober.

THE BAND.

By Charles Harrison.

Sunday afternoon was delightful for an out-of-door concert.

The chimes played by Miss Kellar, with band accompaniment, were very pleasing to the listeners.

The cornet solo "Out on Guard," played by our soloist, James Garvie, was excellently rendered and very appropriate for the occasion.

A sacred concert will be given on the opening day of commencement week. Chopin's "Funeral March" will be played in memory of the students who have died and are buried here.

BOY SCOUT NOTES.

By Ralph Tourillotte.

Troop 6 sold ice cream at the dual meet last Saturday.

The Scouts had a group picture taken last Friday afternoon.

A few of the Scouts went to Mt. Holly last Saturday. They had a fine time.

Saturday evening Scout Master Brown took the Scouts to the moving picture show.

Those of the Boy Scouts who are going to stay here during the summer are planning for a two weeks' outing at Pine Grove.

CHAPEL EXERCISES.

By Hattie McAfee.

In the morning Minnie Charles, of the Senior class, gave a recitation entitled, "The Arrow and the Song," also Kipling's L'envoi, and in the afternoon Nettie Kingsley gave extracts from "A Forest Hymn."

A pleasing feature of the exercises, both morning and afternoon, was a vocal duet entitled, "Under the Lilies and Roses," by two members of the Senior class, Mary Raiche and Lillian Walker.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT.

By Rosa Allen.

All the classes will have examination this week.

Our lesson for the week was on the making of fruit puddings.

Last week part of the time was given to copying recipes in our books of all the "goodies" we have made.

INDUSTRIAL AND INSTITUTIONAL DEPARTMENTS

"A first condition of Citizenship and of self-respect is the power of self-support."

THE PAINT SHOP.

By Joseph Morrin.

The moulding for the new cottage was stained.

Several bureaus for the Girls' Quarters were painted.

The work on the extension of the new cottage is finished.

Joseph Shooter and George May have joined the painters.

Stained-glass substitute was put on the windows of the clothing room, reception room, and dining room at Girls' Quarters.

THE SHEET METAL SHOP.

By James Holstein.

A large ice box is being lined for Mr. Gehringer.

We did repair work in and out of doors during the past week.

A galvanized oil can was made for the Laundry. We are also making pans for use in the Laundry.

We made some ice cream cone carriers and are working on some large, heavy galvanized tin cups for the Boy Scouts.

THE HOSPITAL.

By Lyman Madison.

After a long illness James Thompson is now able to sit up a half day at a time.

Alice Tyndall with her sister, Mrs. Brooks, left for her home in Nebraska Tuesday afternoon.

John Meoghgee, who has been with us for some time, left for his home in Mayetta, Kans., Monday evening.

Last Thursday evening Dr. Rendtorff gave a lecture on "infant feeding." The lecture for this week will be on the duties of an Indian nurse among her people.

THE PLUMBING SHOP.

By Francis Kettle.

There were hardly any odd jobs to do last week, but we were kept busy digging the sewer line. The ditch is very stony, and in consequence work is rather slow. It was necessary that the rocks be blasted, so Mr. Weber has an experienced man from town who handles the dynamite.

JUNIOR AGRICULTURE.

By Jesse Wofford.

Visits to the garden and other parts of the grounds were made to study the soils.

Last week the junior agricultural class was photographed at one of the laboratory exercises.

The class is now studying soils and plants. The functions of the different parts of plants and the laboratory exercises are very interesting.

THE PRINT SHOP.

By Juan Guterres.

The new school catalogue is off the press. It contains 124 pages and was some job.

On account of the commencement exercises there will be no Arrow next week. The last issue of this school year will be week after commencement, after which the Senior Arrow will be put out.

THE CARPENTER SHOP.

By Loverne Bonser.

A new pillar was built in the porch in front of the tin shop.

Mr. Gardner and some of the boys are preparing the Gymnasium for commencement.

FRESHMAN AGRICULTURE.

By Lucy Charles.

The Freshmen concluded their work in mathematics and took their final examinations last week.

They have now begun the study of plants and how to grow vegetables.

They are very much interested in the laboratory work.

FRESHMAN AGRICULTURE.

By Uneeda Burson.

The afternoon class has taken up the study of vegetable gardening and plants.

The young ladies of the class made a collection of leaves for study and mounting.

The study of germination has been made a special feature of the laboratory work.

The class also labeled all the different samples of seed procured from the farm and seed merchants.

THE BLACKSMITH SHOP.

By Guy Burns.

Almost all of the horses from the stable were shod during the week.

Repairing of farm implements was continued. Four new tires were also set.

SENIOR AGRICULTURE.

Bessie Gilland.

The school garden map has been completed.

Entries were made in the school garden map.

The study of plants and their relation to soil has begun.

The class continued the study of soils and experimental work.

The class visited the school garden to study the kinds of soil found there and to make notes on the progress of the vegetables planted during the last few weeks.

The class has been greatly interested in the study of roots. Practical illustrations and experiments have been made to show the process of the absorption of mineral food through the root hairs.

THE LAUNDRY.

By Lena Parker.

Beulah Logan, a member of the morning detail, left for her home in Versailles, N. Y.
